

Day 1

Ecuador

LEARNING HOW TO RECYCLE

TAKING CARE OF ECUADOR'S ENVIRONMENT

The project „Aprendiendo a reciclar“ wants to make Ecuadorian people aware of the importance and the value of preserving the country's natural resources. The main goal is to teach school kids about sustainable life styles and the importance of recycling. Apart from raising the awareness among the school kids the team of 5 people also hopes that the kids pass on the information to their parents and the community.

The project takes place near Quito, the capital of Ecuador and is supported by the non-governmental organisation ARGEMATH Ecuador and the government school Escuela República de Uruguay. Ecuador's environment is very rich and diverse and therefore its main asset. Unfortunately, most Ecuadorians are not aware of the importance of preserving their country's nature.
